Electronics 130.16 tons; Tires 127.61 tons; Motor Oil 12.88 tons; Antifreeze 2.68 tons; Oil Filters 3.23 tons.

EDUCATION:

SISWD's staff provides recycling presentations to classrooms, civic clubs, and organizations, or governmental meetings to advocate environmental stewardship to the public. SISWD provided 126 presentations in 2017.

SISWD offers their Environmental Discovery Center to district schools, families, churches and clubs to learn more about recycling and how it impacts our environment. SISWD produces two quarterly educational publications that are distributed throughout schools and local newspapers. SISWD also provided seven scholarships totaling $7,000 throughout their district in 2017 for graduating high school seniors.

RECYCLING/REUSE CENTER:

SISWD operates and staffs eight recycling drop off centers throughout its seven county district.

SISWD also operates and staffs eight reuse centers in their district. Gently used clothing, shoes, books, office supplies, videos/CDs, knick-knacks, and non-upholstered furniture are just a few of the items that are accepted. Donations are provided by the residents of each county. All items within the store are free of charge to all residents within the district.

SISWD provides weekly recyclables collection to over 60 schools throughout seven counties. SISWD continued to provide their school recycling rebate program in 2017. Each school is granted market value for the recyclables collected by SISWD.

SISWD places recycling containers at various locations throughout the district. Since most of the district is rural, stand-alone receptacles allow for recycling in remote parts of the counties without having to drive a great distance to a recycling center. This service is funded by SISWD with collection of materials made by the private sector.

SISWD provides annual grant funds to Cities/Towns within their district that offer curbside recycling. In 2017 SISWD contributed $26,358 in grant funds to Cities/Towns. Curbside recycling within SISWD's district had 1,713.92 tons (this tonnage is not included in the total amount of recycling reported on page 1 of this report) of recyclables collected in 2017.

DISASTER DEBRIS:

SISWD partners alongside the Indiana Department of Homeland Security to assist with Disaster Debris Management throughout their district. The role of SISWD is to not only help remove disaster debris but also to assess the degree and expense of the damages to any given region.

ILLEGAL DUMPING:

SISWD provides assistance to the seven counties in their district to help with costs associated with illegal dumping.

Notation: This report does not include the receipts and disbursements of $411,550.77 for the Payroll Fund as this addition would duplicate expenditures and skew figures for Total Personnel Expenditures and Per Capita Expenditures.
